

MDA

Getting the market data universe right

Professional market data management has long been recognised in the finance industry as a key success factor in its own right. The amount of data to be processed has been growing continuously while, over the past years, regulatory requirements have been noticeably tightened - especially with regard to quality.

MARKET DATA APPLICATION – MDA

RSU's solution is your new Single Point of Truth for market data (end of day). MDA gathers all data needed and then processes, validates and distributes them to downstream systems.

OUR COMMITMENT:

Quality

- > Quality-assured market data
- > Reducing operational risk
- > Full compliance with legal and regulatory requirements

Flexibility

- > Standardised interfaces with vendors and data providers
- > Individual process design and data pool management

Simplicity

- > More productivity through automation
- > Less internal workload through comprehensive outsourcing

MDA provides tried and tested RSU support, for example for the following types of listed securities:

- > FX rates and derivatives (swaps, options)
- > fixed income securities
- > interest rate instruments
- > curve and area types (zero rates, volatilities, etc.)

New instruments can be easily and flexibly integrated with MDA.

Internal solutions often become entangled in individual interdependencies.

By taking an outside look we can help you reach your goals faster, more flexibly and better – thanks to RSU's proven quality standards. Take advantage of our in-depth experience and the expertise built from our successful reference cases.

Today we already calculate more than 150,000 instruments each day for our clients – more than 16 million since MDA was launched. Various internal and external vendors provide the basis for the 10 data sources currently implemented in MDA, which are connected to more than 35 downstream systems.

Let's optimise your data flows together.
Quality, Flexibility, Simplicity "made by RSU".

We're looking forward to talking to you: sascha.greiner@rsu-rating.de